

To: Users of CTA-861, A DTV Profile for Uncompressed High-Speed Digital Interfaces

From: Dave Wilson

Date: October 24, 2017

Subject: Incorrect use of “Adobe RGB” trademark

Adobe Systems, Inc. has informed CTA that use of the trademarked term “Adobe RGB” in CTA-861-E, CTA-861-F and CTA-861-G is inappropriate. CTA is in the process of reviewing and revising CTA-861 to address the Adobe Systems, Inc. concerns.

CTA has stopped distributing these versions of CTA-861 pending completion of this review. If you would like to participate in the review please join CTA’s DTV Interface Subcommittee (R4.8) Uncompressed A/V Digital Interfaces Working Group (WG7) here:

<https://standards.cta.tech/apps/org/workgroup/r4sc8wg7/>

The revised document will be available as soon as the revisions are complete.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience.

Dave Wilson
VP, Technology & Standards